

FINDING THE PAST IN THE FUTURE

LEAVING A LEGACY TO THE BRITISH INSTITUTE AT ANKARA

The BIAA's work in Turkey and the Black Sea region enables us to understand centuries of fascinating history and pre-history, and to locate the present and future in that context. But much remains to be uncovered, understood and shared.

The future of the BIAA depends increasingly on the support of those who appreciate our work. One way you can help secure this future is by leaving the BIAA a legacy.

Legacies often enable people to consider larger gifts than might ever be possible during their lifetime - but regardless of size, all legacies are a simple, effective and generous way to support the Institute's work. So do, please, consider including a gift, small or large, in your Will, whether as a general donation or linked to a particular area of personal interest. Your generosity will help ensure that future generations are able to explore, understand and enjoy the treasures of Turkey as we do.

To discuss your possible interest in leaving a legacy to the BIAA please contact our London Manager at 020 7969 5204. Alternatively, you can visit the website at <http://biaa.ac.uk/support-us/legacy>. It can be as simple as writing a codicil to the Will you have already made – guidance is also available on the website.

Whatever your decision, thank you for taking time to consider our request.
