

At Empires' Edge: Project Paphlagonia. Regional Survey in North-Central Turkey
(British Institute at Ankara Monograph 44)
Edited by Roger Matthews and Claudia Glatz
London 2009

Table of contents

i	Preface and acknowledgements
iii	Contributors
iv	List of figures
xi	List of tables
xi	Abbreviations used in the pottery and object figure catalogues
1	Chapter One Project Paphlagonia: research issues, approaches and methods Roger Matthews
27	Chapter Two Contexts of human interaction: geology, geography, geomorphology and environment Ben Marsh, Neil Roberts, Vedat Toprak, Roger Matthews, Warren Eastwood, Julian Carolan, Arda Arcasoy and M. Lütfi Süzen
75	Chapter Three Silent centuries: Paphlagonia from the Palaeolithic to the Early Bronze Age, 200,000-2000 BC Roger Matthews
107	Chapter Four A Landscape of conflict and control: Paphlagonia during the second millennium BC Claudia Glatz, Roger Matthews and Andreas Schachner
149	Chapter Five A dark age, grey ware and elusive empires: Paphlagonia through the Iron Age, 1200-330 BC Roger Matthews
173	Chapter Six Landscapes with figures: Paphlagonia through the Hellenistic, Roman and Byzantine periods, 330 BC-AD 1453 Roger Matthews, Michael Metcalfe and Daniela Cottica
227	Chapter Seven Çankırı in history: insights from Ottoman documents M. Mehdi İlhan
239	Chapter Eight People and place in Paphlagonia: trends and patterns in settlement through time Roger Matthews and Claudia Glatz
251	Site Catalogue
261	Bibliography